

(Morley's)

September 22nd 1896

Dear Mr Laurie

Sorry to miss you yesterday morning. I am often away from Morley's writing a new book in quiet rooms. Morley's is too noisy and liable to interruptions. I should be glad if you would have the dozen of packed and sent to Morley's. They are so much more convenient.

I am glad you are not issuing till the 7th. I shall be back about that time and will see Mister Unwin and yourself. Glad indeed to hear of the noble edition going so well.

The accounts are A1. Send them to Mr Watt at the date you mention. He will attend to them.

with kind regards

faithfully yours

SR Crockett.
