

January 1895

Dear Mr. Blackwood,

I wish I had known. I have just been in town for two days with Dr Whyte. I am going off to London and shan't be able to be in town for some time again.

See here - when I come back will you not come out and dine and sleep with us and then we shall have a better chance of [____] knowledge and crack than in a club. I shall be at Morley's Hotel, Trafalgar Square, London from Wednesday

Ever

S.R. Crockett
