

Letter from Dodd Mead & Co. to A.P. Watt
New York

New York
July 11 1899.
A P Watt
London, England

Dear Sirs

A Telegram comes from you today. 'Iona March published today'. Our letter of June 30th must have been in your hands yesterday. You will see by it that it is utterly impossible for us to deposit two copies of the revised book. We have, as we have already stated, filed the new title and A Woman of fortune was copyrighted serially But we must not be held responsible if the copyright of Iona March is assailed because we have not been put in a position fully to copyright it

We are

yours very truly
Dodd Mead &Co